

ENTROPY CHAIR

A frenetically woven choice for seating, our Entropy Chair has a metal cubic structure to which black cord has been wound in a spider-web arrangement to create a one-of-a-kind place to sit. Though the pattern seems completely random, the cords are strung to create a secure seat. This is one of the best examples in our product lineup that reflects the ethos that Phillips Collection personifies: modern organic. This black chair is perfect for contemporary interiors and rooms with an industrial chic vibe.
