Petrified Wood Stool | One-of-a-Kind

The stars of the Elements collection, petrified wood and onyx, beautifully showcase Nature's artistry. Petrified wood captures the preserved details of ancient trees, while onyx, with its striking banded patterns, is crafted into elegant bowls, tables, and lighting. SUSTAIN

We are deeply committed to sustainability and live by the ethos that every company can make a difference. As we celebrate forty years in business, we pride ourselves on our global stewardship with a core belief in sustainability, and implement eco-friendly manufacturing in all of our locations, both locally and abroad.

We are thoughtful in how we procure materials and construct our furnishings, and celebrate Nature's stunning imperfections. We waste little and revisit our processes often. As a founding member of the Sustainable Furnishings Council, we hope to be a part of the movement toward a better future.

LIABILITY

A large group of people, mostly wearing yellow shirts, are working on a hillside. They are engaged in planting trees, with many saplings visible in the foreground and background. The terrain is uneven and appears to be a cleared area for reforestation. In the distance, a road with several vehicles (a white pickup truck, a dark pickup truck, and a black car) is visible. The background shows a lush green landscape with more trees and hills. The word "LIABILITY" is overlaid in large, bold, white capital letters across the middle of the image.

At Phillips Collection, our commitment to sustainability and social responsibility is at the heart of everything we do. Through our Phillips Cares initiative, we actively support environmental preservation, fair trade practices, and community development around the world. From using responsibly sourced materials to empowering local artisans, we strive to make a positive impact on both people and the planet.
