

PETRIFIED LAMINATE STOOL

Natural

Petrified wood: wood that has been aged over staggering amounts of time and has become imbued with the properties of stone. The Natural Petrified Laminated Stool is formed from many different bits of petrified wood that have been shaped into rectangles, creating an attractive puzzle-like effect across the surface of the piece. The combination of clean shapes along with the organic flow of the wood grain create an astoundingly unique effect that makes the Petrified Laminated Stool fit right in with the Phillips Collection ethos: modern organic.
