

MOLTEN MIRROR WALL TILE

Poured Aluminum in Wood

Collaborating with Mother Nature is in our DNA at Phillips Collection, which is why we call our ethos modern organic. Among our pieces that bring this juxtaposition front-and-center is our Molten Poured Aluminum Mirror. Where Nature left an opening as a piece of wood deteriorated over time, we inserted a mirror that contrasts the warm tones in the wood. The charred edge where the reflective glass meets the wood brings it an even richer character. This wood decorative mirror is the perfect example of how we work diligently to use every piece of natural material we source, many of the elements declared castaways by less thoughtful product designers. We also offer wall tiles and coffee tables filled with molten brass and aluminum.
