

FACETED ROCK COLUMN SCULPTURE

Gray

Every residence needs its own version of a totem that will bring charm to a space. For the lover of naïve design elements, the Faceted Rock Column Sculpture will be a statuesque decorative accessory in a space at 68-inches high. But don't worry that this tall sculpture will be difficult to move around because it's not made of stone; it's fashioned from composite in a warm gray finish. The decorative sculpture reflects the ethos that Phillips Collection personifies: modern organic.
