

MOLTEN MIRROR

Round, Gold Leaf

Proving our design prowess in making other materials look like metal is the Molten Mirror. It is made of composite to look as if hot metal was frozen as it was poured into its shape and covered in a bright gold leaf finish. The decorative mirror is a design chameleon, as it would bring luminosity to any number of design styles, including contemporary, transitional, and traditional. Hang the round mirror in a gallery wall installation with the Molten Gold Wall Discs, which we offer in gold and silver leaf, for more impact. Each of these reflects the ethos that Phillips Collection personifies: modern organic.
