

MANDO PLANTER

Aluminum, LG

The tortoise-shell pattern etched into the Mando Large Gray Planter convinces the eye that this tall planter with contemporary lines is made of metal but it's fashioned from composite, which our talented finish artisans have given a handsome sheen. This means it will far outlast any silver planter made from a material that will rust. The combination of tone-on-tone texture and a clean profile makes this piece a shoe-in for the Phillips Collection ethos, which we call modern organic. We offer several finishes and sizes of this design.
