

STRING THEORY PEDESTAL

Bronze, SM

The metallic finish on the String Theory Small Bronze Pedestal convinces the eye that this decorative element is made of metal but it's fashioned from composite, which our talented finish artisans have given a textural sheen. This means it will far outlast any pedestal made from a material that could rust. The combination of its warm surface and textural pattern makes this piece a shoe-in for the Phillips Collection ethos, which we call modern organic. We offer several finishes and sizes of this design; and we have planters in several finishes.
