

SPLIT SLAB MIRROR

Gray Stone

The combination of gleaming mirror and textural wood makes the Split Slab Gray Mirror a contrast in materials. We've designed the piece so that it is as much a piece of wall art as it is a looking glass. The panels of chamcha wood that flow along the sides of the rectangular mirror have a beautiful waviness to the grain that Mother Nature is so adept at achieving. This is one of our pieces that illustrates how we use nearly every length of the trees we harvest when we rescue them from being Nature's finest castaways. The juxtapositions in this decorative mirror reflect the ethos that Phillips Collection personifies: modern organic.
