

MARLEY BAR STOOL

Natural, Stainless Steel Foot Rest

Made of mango wood, the Marley Natural Bar Stool has an hourglass profile that keeps its lines clean and simple. Also contemporary on this design is the minimalist feel of the stainless-steel foot rest. Mango wood is a hardwood that has been harvested for making furniture for many years. The heartwood, which is inherently sustainable, comes in a variety of colors, ranging from light to dark brown, with some pieces even having a hint of pink. The natural surface of this version of the bar stool, illustrates how warm the tones are. This is one of our pieces of furniture that reflects the ethos that Phillips Collection personifies: modern organic. We have a number of stools and tables in a variety of finishes.
