

CHAIN TORSO SCULPTURE

The Chain Torso Sculpture is a metal sculpture made from discarded bicycle chains that have been welded together to create a human form. The asymmetrical stance adds drama to this unique piece, and the minimalist style of the flat base leaves the art to shine. At 39-inches high, it will be a true statement piece in a room. The fact it is made from a recycled product, it is an artful use of a mundane material, and it is contemporary in style makes the piece a perfect fit for Phillips Collection's modern organic ethos.
