

STACKED RING MIRROR

Chamcha Wood, Bleached, MD

With a hint of tribal chic, the Medium Stacked-Ring Wood Mirror was created when circlets of chamcha wood were carved and slid onto the frame in a process similar to how a necklace would be made. This illustrates not only the talent of our design team to come up with such unusual stylistic statements, it also proves the dexterity with which our craftspeople execute their work. We also offer this mirror in a small size, and we have three sizes of wall art without the inset mirror. Each of these reflects the ethos that Phillips Collection personifies: modern organic.
